Introducing Jim Galbavy

Jim began his career at Safety Socket in 1966. His first jobs were in Inside Sales, quoting both standard and special fasteners. During his career at Safety, which this year will span 35 years, Jim has worked in Customer Service, Quoting, and even has done a few stints in the plant. For the past five years Jim has concentrated on Special Sales. He is also the Inside Sales Manager for Safety's screw-machine division, Overton Screw Machine Products. Jim's quick wit and extensive knowledge of our manufacturing capabilities have won him many friends in the fastener business over the years.

Jim and his wife Irene will celebrate 40 years of marriage this year. They have one son, Jim, Jr., and one granddaughter. Jim Galbavy is a very important part of the Safety Socket family, and we wish him continued success.

If you have tough-to-make parts that have given you fits, give Jim a call !
